Scient Global Conferences, the Open Access Publisher and Scientific Events Organizer is hosting Global Conference on Dental and Oral Health during August 22-24, 2016 at Dubai, UAE.

The mission of the Scient Global Conferences is to advance the understanding and treatment of decays with the goals of improving, extending and, ultimately, saving the lives of those impacted by dental infections. When becoming our partner, we will do our utmost to satisfy your needs for involvement and exposure. Our sponsor packages offer pre-defined exposure opportunities, but don’t hesitate to bring us your personal requests.

The GCD (Global Conference on Dental and Oral Health) is where patients, families and caregivers come together to learn more about the latest advances in research, treatment and care. Nearly 200 patients and caregivers will network with each other and gather the most up to date dental information through our exceptional educational programming, including: treatment updates, symptom management tips, specific oral care breakout sessions, research updates and much more.

Why Sponsor

Network with experts advancing dental research treatment and care. Patients, Caregivers, Dental Researchers, Dental Educators, Clinical Organizations, Educational Institutes and Business Leaders in the health sector worldwide licensed clinical social workers and others who are involved in the treatment and care are in attendance.

The 2016 Global Dental Conference provides the opportunity to:

- Educate prospective patients, caregivers and allied healthcare professionals about the benefits of your products and services.
- Feature and demonstrate your products at the resource fair.
- Expand your company’s visibility among your target audiences and improve name recognition.
